M: Mom, look! It's raining outside. But we don't have umbrellas.
W: I think we need to buy one in this building.
M: Okay. Where can we buy one?
W: _____

W: Mr. Smith, can you give me advice on how to edit my essay?
M: Sure. First, take a look at the hand-out I gave you last class. It has helpful examples.
W: Really? Oh, I'm sorry. I'm afraid I lost it.
M: _____

M: Hello, everyone. Welcome back to our show, 'Secrets to a Healthy Life.' I'm your host and health expert, Eric Bolton. You might have heard that many people suffer from dry skin as the weather gets colder. Let me share some tips to keep your skin healthy in the winter. When you take a bath, use water that is not very hot. A long hot bath in cold weather can make your skin dry and eventually cause skin trouble. And one more tip for your skin in the winter: Put lotion or oil on your skin as often as possible. I hope you can make use of these tips to keep your skin healthy even in the winter.

W: Hello, Jake. Is studying for the final exams going well?
M: Not really, Ms. Baker. I've been drinking energy drinks to stay awake.
W: Well, I think you'd better not drink too many of them.
M: Why? Do they have harmful effects?
W: Energy drinks have a lot of caffeine, so drinking them too much can disturb your sleep and make you feel dizzy.
M: That explains why I can't sleep well at night.
W: Right. Also, drinking them can make you nervous.
M: Really? I thought it would relieve my stress instead.
W: That's not true. And the more you drink energy drinks, the more you become dependent on them.
M: Do you mean I can become addicted to them?
W: That's right. So you should be careful not to drink too many of them.
M: Okay. I'll keep that in mind. Thanks, Ms. Baker.

W: Hello. How can I help you?
M: Hi, I made an online reservation. Do I get the tickets here?
W: You don't have to get tickets if you have a reservation number. Just show it at the entrance and you can enjoy the whole camping expo.
M: That's great. I heard there is a section for camping tables and chairs in the expo. Where can I find it?
W: When you go inside, you'll see it on your right. Look for camping goods on display.
M: Thanks. Is there a cafeteria around here?
W: Yes, we have one on the second floor.
M: Thank you so much for your help.
W: My pleasure. Enjoy your time in our camping expo.

M: What are you looking at, honey?

W: It's the picture Sally sent to me. She recommended that we go to the new community park near her house.

M: Let me see it. [Pause] I like this big round table on the left. We can have some sandwiches and talk there.

W: Sounds great. Look at the elephant face at the top of the slide. It looks cute.

M: Yeah, there are also swings next to it. Our son would like this park, too.

W: He sure would. Oh, there is a see-saw in front of the swings.

M: Wow, this park has everything a child could want.

W: It's great to find a place where parents and children can have a good time together.

M: It really is. Take a look at these flowers placed in the shape of a heart!

W: They're beautiful. How about going there this weekend?

M: Terrific! I can't wait to go there.

W: David, how are the preparations going for your meeting tomorrow?

M: Hi, Jennifer. They're almost done. I'm about to check if everything is ready.

W: Sounds good. Since I finished my own work today, I can help you.

M: That's very kind of you. I confirmed the reservation for the meeting room and sent text messages informing the participants of tomorrow's schedule.

W: What about snacks for the meeting?

M: They're in my car. I'll get them tomorrow morning.

W: And, is there anything else left to do?

M: Let me see... I need to make name tags to give to the participants.

W: Do you want me to help you with that?

M: No, thanks. I can handle it. Could you print out some materials for the meeting instead?

W: Sure. I'll do that for you.

M: I'll send you the file to print out right now. Thank you.

M: Hello. Janis! What's up?

W: Hi, Chris. How are you spending your vacation?

M: I've been doing a lot of cooking. How about you? You said you're going on a family trip.

W: Yeah, I was supposed to, but I can't.

M: Really? Aren't there flight tickets available?

W: Well, it's not about tickets.

M: Then why? Oh, is there still a problem with your ankle?

W: No, I'm okay now. Actually I applied for an overseas volunteering program earlier and I was accepted.

M: What a great chance! So you can't go on that family trip.

W: You're right. I'll be abroad for a month. I wanted to say goodbye to you before I leave.

M: Take good care of yourself. I'm sure you'll have a meaningful experience.

W: Thank you for supporting me. Have a nice vacation!

W: Welcome to Good Aroma Candle. How may I help you?

M: Hi. I'm looking for scented candles for my parents. They like flower scents.

W: Come over here and try this flower scent.

M: Thanks. [Pause] I like this rose scented candle. How much is it?

W: Large candles and medium ones are on sale now. Large ones are $20 and medium ones are $10 each.

M: Well then, I'll take two large candles.

W: If you buy any three candles, we give you a soap for free.

M: Great. Then I'll have a medium one with the same scent as well. Did you say they're $10?

W: Exactly. You're getting two large candles and one medium candle.

M: That's right. Can I also use this mobile coupon?

W: Of course, you get 10% off the total price with that.

M: Thank you. I'll pay by credit card.

M: Kelly, did you see this Junior Badminton Competition leaflet?

W: No, not yet. Let me see. The competition is on November 21st, at 10 a.m.

M: It's after the midterm exams. Why don't we sign up for the competition as a team?

W: Sounds exciting. It would be an unforgettable event before graduating.

M: Exactly. The participation fee is only $8.

W: That's reasonable. Oh, look at this. They provide lunch for free.

M: But here it says we have to bring our own rackets.

W: Then, we should bring ours. How can we apply for the competition?

M: It says we can sign up online. Let's do it together now.

W: Okay. I'm really looking forward to it.

M: Hey, Cathy! What are you looking at?

W: Hi, Steve. I was searching for an art supplies set. I'm thinking about sending it as a Christmas gift to children in need.

M: You're so kind. Do you need help choosing one?

W: Yeah, thank you. I want it to be under $20.

M: All right. Let me see. Which type of coloring tool would be good for them?

W: Hmm... I think watercolors are not very convenient. The kids would need extra things like brushes.

M: I agree. The other tools would be better.

W: Right. How about the number of colors?

M: They'll need more than thirty colors to express what they want.

W: You're right. Then, there are two choices left.

M: Yeah. Oh, there is a model which includes a sketchbook.

W: Perfect! They might need it in their art classes. I'll choose that one.

W: Brian, you look so tired today.
 M: Yeah, even though I get enough rest, I feel exhausted these days.
 W: Hmm... maybe you need some exercise. You like swimming, don't you?
 M: I do, but I often feel lazy.
 W: That's true for me, too. So, I made myself join a sports club at school.
 M: What kind of sports club?
 W: I exercise in a yoga club. I find it very helpful to work out with other people at a fixed time.
 M: I guess exercising with others can help you keep motivated.
 W: Exactly. Why don't you join a sports club, too?
 M: Actually, I'm interested in the swimming club, but as far as I know, the registration period ended.
 W: It's too early to give up! I saw a notice that all the clubs extended their registration period to this Friday.
 M: _____

M: Bonnie, what are you doing?
 W: I'm checking my bank account. I'm running out of money again.
 M: Haven't you gotten paid for your part-time job yet?
 W: I have, but I already spent most of the money hanging out with my friends. At the end of month, I'll be broke.
 M: Then, how about setting a weekly budget?
 W: A weekly budget? What do you mean by that?
 M: I usually set a budget for each week, and don't spend more than it allows. So I've cut down on everyday spending on chips and soda.
 W: Good for you. Can I save money if I make it a habit, too?
 M: Of course, you can. If you consider your budget, you'll think twice before you spend money.
 W: That makes sense. Keeping a weekly budget seems advantageous.
 M: Now that I keep a weekly budget, I spend money only where I need it. I bet it'll work for you, too.
 W: _____

15. [출제의도] 담화의 상황에 맞는 적절한 표현 고르기

M: Ted and Linda are classmates. Linda has some trouble with her friends because she often forgets her appointments with them. In contrast, Ted is always on time and the other classmates think he's very responsible and reliable. Today, Linda even forgets to submit an important paper. She knows what she has to do, but it's not easy for her to remember everything. Disappointed in herself, she asks Ted for some help on how she can overcome her habit of forgetting. He thinks using a calendar app could help break her bad habit. So Ted wants to advise Linda to try using a calendar app to remind her of important things. In this situation, what would Ted most likely say to Linda?
 Ted: _____

W: Hello, students! Last class we learned about recycling. Today, I'll introduce you to something better than recycling. It's the process of turning waste into new items in a creative way. Let me show you some examples. First, one creative way is to make plastic bottles into vases for your home. Second, you can turn old cardboard boxes into fun chairs. All you need is just a little time and some paint. Third, an easy way to use empty cans creatively is turning them into fancy pencil holders for your desk. Lastly, when old newspapers pile up in your home, you can use them to wrap any present. It'll make your gift unique and memorable. In this way, you can create something new out of waste on your own. There are an endless number of ideas you can come up with if you use your imagination. Let's do something wonderful for our planet by this process, upcycling.
