M: Mom! My computer stopped working while I was typing my report.

W: Oh, really? Have you tried rebooting it?

M: I've already tried, but the computer won't turn on. Do you have the phone number of the repair shop?

W: _____

2. 대화를 듣고, 여자의 마지막 말에 대한 남자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Hi, Alan. How was your trip to New York? You must be so tired after the long flight.

M: The trip was great, but I couldn't sleep last night because of the time zone difference.

W: Oh, I heard getting sunlight is really helpful. Your body will recover faster.

M: _____

3. 다음을 듣고, 여자가 하는 말의 목적으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Hello, Kingstown residents! The 7th Kingstown Half Marathon is going to be held on August 20 of this year. There will be temporary road closures and traffic control measures during the race. Most road closures will be in effect between 6 a.m. and 3 p.m. The police will monitor the entire race course. At most points along the course, pedestrians and bicyclists may cross the course during safe gaps between runners. Please follow the directions of the police officers. The streets will reopen as soon as the last runner has passed and all course support materials have been removed. If you want to get more information, please call 262-375-1370. We appreciate your cooperation and patience.

4. 대화를 듣고, 두 사람이 하는 말의 주제로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Hey, Jane. What are you doing with your tablet?

W: Hi, I'm reading an e-book about psychology.

M: E-book? Is it better than reading a paper book?

W: Certainly! E-books are super convenient!

M: Really? How?

W: Well, first of all, e-books are much easier to carry. After all,
I can take hundreds of books with me on just one device.

M: Yeah, that's true. That would save a lot of space in your bag.

W: See? What's more, it's easier to look up words with e-books.
I can even adjust the text size as I like.

M: That sounds very useful. But what about the price?

W: E-books are actually cheaper. And we can easily get them online without going to a bookstore.

M: Okay, sounds like I should give them a try.

5. 대화를 듣고, 두 사람의 관계를 가장 잘 나타낸 것을 고르시오.

[Cellphone rings.]

M: Hello?

W: Hi, Mr. Robert. This is Mary Smith from the Royal Art Museum.

M: Hi, Mary. How have you been?

W: I've been okay. I heard you took part in dubbing the animated film The Power recently.

M: Yeah. It's one of the best movies that I have voiced.

W: I really like it, too. I also need your talent because I'm arranging a special exhibition of James Brown's works. There will be audio guide service for visitors.

M: Oh, great! Would you like me to record the audio guide?

W: Exactly. I think your voice would be well suited for it.

M: Thanks. When would you like to start recording?

W: It would be next Monday at the Lakeside Studio. I need you to sign a contract first.

M: All right. Can I drop by your office tomorrow morning?

W: Sure. I'm so glad to work with an expert like you.

6. 대화를 듣고, 그림에서 대화의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

M: Ms. Linda, this is the final version of our school concert poster. I took your advice.
W: Great. I like the way you capitalized all the letters of "SUMMER CONCERT 2016." It's very eye-catching.
M: Thank you. What about the picture of these students on the piano keys?
W: Cute! They're holding hands together!
M: Yes, I wanted to emphasize harmony.
W: That's a good idea.
M: And I put the information of when and where the concert will take place just below the piano keys.
W: Good. I like the way you put the school logo, a butterfly, next to our school's name.
M: I'm glad to hear that.
W: Oh, you changed the picture of a guitar to drums on the right side of the poster.
M: Yes, because drums are popular among students. Should I add anything else?
W: No, this is enough. You did a good job!

7. 대화를 듣고, 남자가 여자에게 부탁한 일로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Justin, how's your team doing with the "Dream Books" project?

M: It's been okay. There are many things to do, but it's meaningful.

W: Yeah, I love the idea of making a story book and then sending it to children.

M: Thanks! We found an organization to send the books to, and we just completed the story.

W: Great! What is the story about?

M: It's about a boy living in Madagascar who dreams of becoming a soccer player.

W: Wow, awesome. Seems like you have everything figured out.

M: Actually, for pictures in the book, we need someone like you who can draw well. Can you help us?

W: Oh, I'm not sure because I'll start my internship next week.

M: It won't take that long. We only need four or five pictures.

W: In that case, I'd love to help you.

M: Thanks a lot!

8. 대화를 듣고, 남자가 걸어서 귀가하는 이유를 고르시오.

[Cellphone rings.]

W: Hello, Tom?

M: Yeah, Mom. I finished the team project early, so I'm coming home now.

W: That's good. So where are you now?

M: I've just passed by the post office.

W: All right, you'll arrive home soon. Can you pick up some milk at the supermarket near the house?

M: Of course, Mom. But is it okay if it takes a little longer? I'm actually walking home.

W: Oh, you didn't take a bus?

M: No. I'm walking home now with my classmate, Jim, who lives in our neighborhood.

W: I see. But why? Did you guys need some exercise?

M: No, it's not that. Actually, Jim just moved here last week. We're walking home so I can show him around the neighborhood.

W: That's so sweet of you. You should be careful while walking, though.

M: Okay. I'll get you the milk soon.

9. 대화를 듣고, 여자가 지불할 금액을 고르시오.

W: There are so many items at this charity bazaar!
M: Yes, we have a lot of donations this year. Do you have something in mind?
W: Well, how much are these animal-shaped mugs?
M: The regular price of a mug is nine dollars, but we sell them for three dollars each.
W: Wow, that's a steal! I'll take four monkey mugs.
M: Okay. Is there anything else you need?
W: Well, how much is this backpack on this rack?
M: All those items are 50% off. Oh, here's the price tag after discount. It's 20 dollars.
W: I'll buy it as well. I like its flower pattern.
M: You got a good deal on it.
W: I think so. I have a two dollar gift coupon. Can I use it now?
M: Of course. I'll take two dollars off the total price.
W: Good. I'll pay in cash.

10. 대화를 듣고, Youth Film Festival에 관해 두 사람이 언급하지 않은 것을 고르시오.

M: Olivia, I heard your film was accepted into the Youth Film Festival. Congratulations!

W: Thanks. I'm so excited to show my film to an audience.

M: So at the festival, people can watch movies made by teenagers, right?

W: Exactly. The festival will show short films, animated movies, and documentaries, all made by teenagers.

M: Sounds awesome. When is the festival?

W: It'll be held from October 10 to 17.

M: Good. It's right after my midterm exams. I want to watch those movies, too. How can I attend the festival?

W: You can visit the website at www.youthfilm.com and sign up there.

M: Thanks. I wish I had a chance to make films like you.

W: Oh, during the festival, there's a special event where you can actually experience filmmaking.

M: Really? I'd love to do it.

W: I'm sure you would enjoy it.

11. Run to Beat Stomach Cancer에 관한 다음 내용을 듣고, 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

M: Good morning, citizens! I'm Peter Johnson of Colorado Springs City Government. On August 16, we will have an event, the Run to Beat Stomach Cancer! This is our second year hosting the event, and we're so excited to have it back. All profits go to support stomach cancer patients. Every participant in this event is given a race day T-shirt, and all runners are timed. Prizes are awarded to race winners in age and gender categories. Also, you can listen to a speech by Tonia Smith, a stomach cancer survivor. To join this race, you can choose between two price options: 30 dollars for registration only, or 35 dollars including a 5 dollar donation. So, whether you are a serious runner or a leisurely walker, bring the whole family out to Monument Valley Park and join the fun together!

12. 다음 표를 보면서 대화를 듣고, 두 사람이 선택한 동물원 체험 프로그램을 고르시오.

W: Honey, why don't we take Kelly to the zoo this Sunday? Here's a brochure of the Stanley Zoo Experience Programs.

M: Good idea! Let me see.... How about joining Early Morning with Pandas? It sounds fun.

W: That's too early. It takes more than an hour to get there from our place.

M: Okay, then we'd better choose a different program.

W: What about Dolphin Splash? We could enjoy up-close experiences with dolphins.

M: But that program is two hours long. It's too much for Kelly.

W: Hmm.... How about Elephant Club then?

M: Wait! This program is for children who are at least ten years old. She's too young.

W: You're right. That leaves us these two programs to choose from.

M: Yes. Then how about this program? It sounds more fun. Also, it costs less than $50.

W: I agree. Let's choose this program.

M: Okay. It'll be great.

13. 대화를 듣고, 남자의 마지막 말에 대한 여자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Sophia, we have a problem. The video projector in the meeting room is out of order.

W: Oh, no! We need it for our presentation this afternoon.

M: I asked the maintenance person to fix it, but he couldn't. And there's not an extra one.

W: The presentation won't be effective without it. Can't we change the room?

M: No. All rooms are booked for today.

W: Is there any other way to solve this problem?

M: Well, I have a portable projector for camping. How about using it for the presentation?

W: For camping? Okay, can we test it now? Where is it?

M: It's at my house.

W: Oh, can you go and pick it up from your place right away?

M: Sure. But it'll take some time to get it because I didn't drive here today.

W: _____

14. 대화를 듣고, 여자의 마지막 말에 대한 남자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Honey, would you put these groceries into the refrigerator?

M: Sure. [Pause] Oh, wait! What happened to these carrots? They're all small, and their shapes are so weird!

W: They're called "ugly" carrots. They're so cheap.

M: However cheap they are, don't they look too strange?

W: Come on. Ugly food is getting more and more attention these days.

M: How come? We have plenty of good-looking produce around.

W: But about two billion tons of fruits and vegetables are dumped around the world every year. They are all ugly foods rejected in the market.

M: Hmm, that causes waste and pollution.

W: Yes. But the taste of the food and its nutrition are the same, no matter how it looks.

M: Yeah, we wouldn't even know whether a dish is made with ugly ingredients!

W: Definitely. So, there's no reason to throw away the odd-looking food.

M: _____

15. 다음 상황 설명을 듣고, Ms. Scott이 Evan에게 할 말로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Evan, a high school freshman, likes to play basketball with his friends. One Saturday afternoon around 5:30 p.m., he receives a phone call from his friends asking to play basketball together. After he agrees to meet them at the park, he goes to tell his mother, Ms. Scott, that he's going out. When she hears that Evan is leaving to play basketball, she notices he's wearing jeans and just a T-shirt. She thinks the temperature will drop in the late afternoon because it's between seasons. She's worried that he'll catch a cold, so she wants to advise him to dress himself warmly. In this situation, what would Ms. Scott most likely say to Evan?

16번부터 17번까지는 두 번 들려줍니다.

[16~17] 다음을 듣고, 물음에 답하시오.

M: Hello, class. Today, we'll talk about houses in different environments. When building a home, people use different materials for houses that work well for where and how they live, specifically for their local climate. For example, the weather on certain tropical islands in the Pacific Ocean is hot and wet. People there build wooden houses on long upright pieces of wood. This keeps houses off the wet ground and lets the breeze move under the house. In the southwestern part of the U.S., people build thickly-walled houses from clay to keep the inside cool in the hot and dry desert weather. Meanwhile, Alaska has short, cool summers and very long, cold winters. So the Inuit there traditionally build dome-shaped houses out of snow to endure powerful winter storms. Lastly, in Tibet, some people even make their houses from the wool of animals! The wool walls keep the houses warm through the cold winter months. Let's take a look at some video clips of each type of house.
